

PALM BEACH

ILLUSTRATED®

Celebrate the SEASON!

MAKING MEMORIES

Happy chaos: at home with the CONIGLIO CLAN

Cara Coniglio McClure and Jared McClure
with Elle, Noah, Selah, Lulu, and Filomena

+

SETTING
THE SCENE

Creative holiday tables

POUR

Indulgent Imbibing

Raise a glass to revelry with HIGH-END wines and spirits

By Mark Spivak

The holidays seem to demand indulgence—if not now, when? Looking back on the last year, these are the bottles I would reach for without hesitation.

GEORGIA ON MY MIND: Once you get over the shock of paying $150 for a bottle of California Sauvignon Blanc, Georgia from Lail Vineyards is a memorable experience. Grown on a dry-farmed, three-acre site in Yountville, it is fermented and aged for 18 months in French oak barrels. While the pedigree is California, the style brings to mind Domaine de Chevalier Blanc. (lailvineyards.com) ◀◀

